A Trite Saying.

It is a trite saying that no man is stronger than his stomach. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strengthens the stomach—puts it in shape to make pure, rich blood—helps the liver and kidneys to expel the poisons from the body and thus cures both liver and kidney troubles. If you take this natural blood purifier and tonic, you will assist your system in manufacturing each day a pint of rich, red blood, that is invigorating to the brain and nerves. The weak, nervous, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people suffer from, is usually the effect of poisons in the blood; it is often indicated by pimples or boils appearing on the skin, the face becomes thin and the feelings "blue." Dr. Pierce's "Discovery" cures all blood humors as well as being a tonic that makes one vigorous, strong and forceful. It is the only medicine put up for sale through druggists for like purposes that contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs, and the only one, every ingredient of which has the professional endorsement of the leading medical writers of this country. Some of these endorsements are published in a little book of extracts from standard medical works and will be sent to any address free, on receipt of request therefor by letter or postal card, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. It tells just what Dr. Pierce's medicines are made of.

The "Words of Praise" for the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are composed, by leaders in all the several schools of medical practice, and recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Golden Medical Discovery" is advised should have far more weight with the sick and afflicted than any amount of the so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public by those who are afraid to let the ingredients of which their medicines are composed be known. Bear in mind that the "Golden Medical Discovery" has THE BADGE OF HONESTY on every bottle wrapper, in a full list of its ingredients.

Dr Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation, invigorate the liver and regulate stomach and bowels.

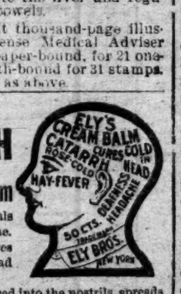
Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages

Ely's Cream Balm

cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.



Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenious and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of

Lax-ets

GREATER ALEXANDRIA.

The Relation of Coal and Iron to the Growth of Cities.

LETTER NO. 4.

To the Editor of the Alexandria Gazette.

All know the fortunes made in the increase of city real estate values, therefore, it is not necessary to enlarge to any extent on that subject. The possibilities of Greater Washington and Greater Alexandria are self evident. Therefore, every land owner and real estate dealer is deeply interested in the ways and means of adding to land values in Washington and Alexandria. A hundred different industries dependent on cheap iron and coal can be brought to Alexandria.

A reference to the increase of land values in and aronnd Pittsburg, Pa., and Birmingham, Alabama, demonstrates what relation coal, iron and steel bear to the development of great industrial cities. Pittsburg and twenty-five growing nearby cities are the outgrowth of the coal and iron industry in that territory. Within the past eight years a city as large as Alexandria near Pittsburg has grown into existence. Chattanooga, Tennessee, and other cities carry the same proof in their wonderful growth.

The building of the great new city of Gary, Indiana, by the United States Steel Corporation emphasizes this fact. The price paid for the site for that coming city, alone, amounted to $1,926,000. Four years ago this property was assessed at only $248,950. It is said that seventy-five million dollars will be expended at Gary in industrial plants. It is farther from iron ores and coal than is Alexandria.

Frick states that he gave Rockefeller forty million dollars in preferred stock and forty million dollars in U. S. Steel common stock for his iron ore lands, and paid him eight and a half million dollars cash for his ore-carrying fleet to merge the same in the U. S. Steel Corporation. This gives some idea of still existing possibilities.

Let us get to work and start a comprehensive plan that will make Alexandria in the very near future a city of one hundred thousand population, while the twin great cities will grow to be to our great nation what London, Paris, Berlin Vienna and other capital cities of Europe are to their respective nations.

My next letter will give the cost of making pig iron at the nearest points to Alexandria and at Alexandria; and will tell about some of the industries dependent on iron. Respectfully yours,

W. G. DOUGLAS.

Argo Red Salmon is an ideal food. Thompson's dietetics, one of the standard works on foods, give Scammell's tables as follows: The per cent. of muscle building material in beef is 19 per cent., eggs 13 per cent., Salmon 20 per cent. As a brain food, beef 2 per cent., eggs, (white) 2½ per cent (yolk) 2 per cent., salmon 6 and 7 per cent.

Negro Attempts Assault.

Capt. Nelson Holmes, of the Cape Henry life-saving station, was in Norfolk yesterday morning to assist in the possible capture of the negro who attempted to assault his daughter, Miss Leola Holmes, at the Marshall Avenue station of the Norfolk and Southern Railway, which is in a sparsely settled district.

Captain Holmes related the story at the Central Police Station as his daughter had told it to him. He said: "My daughters, Maria and Leola, had just gotten out of school and went to the Marshall Avenue station of the Norfolk and Southern Railway to board a car to return to Capt Henry. A Miss Gorton asked the younger of the daughters, Maria, who is 13, to go with her to catch the car at another station. Maria left the other girl at the station.

"The negro was crouched in a corner, and when my daughter attempted to pick up her books, which she had dropped, the negro said: 'Miss, your locket is undone.' Leola shut the locket and ran. The negro followed her around the station, caught her by the throat and shoulders and began to draw her to him. Leola was screaming, and a white lady came and beat the negro away with her umbrella."

A car going to Cape Henry came up at the time, and Miss Holmes screamed for help. Conductor J. E. House, a brother-in-law of Miss Holmes, upon learning that the negro had attempted to assault her, ran in pursuit of the negro and captured him. The negro was badly beaten by Conductor House and let go. Conductor House did not know at the time that the negro had attempted criminal assault and did not bring him back with him.

Piles of people have Piles. Why suffer from piles when you can use DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve and get relief. Nothing else so good. Beware of imitations. See that the name is stamped on each box. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co., 401 King street.

FOR OVER SIXTY YEARS.

AN OLD AND WELL-TRIED REMEDY.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for Diarrhœa. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Guaranteed under the food and drugs act, June 30th, 1906, Serial number 1098.

Complies with all requirements of the National Pure Food Law, Guarantee No. 2041, filed at Washington.

"We dined in some of the finest hotels and restaurants, but did not find any coffee to excel in quality Arbuckles' ARIOSA."

That is what one lady writes and millions of others prove they believe, by using more Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee than all the other packaged coffees in the United States put together.

The fact that Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee costs less and has suited the health and taste of most American people for over 37 years, ought to induce everybody to at least sample it.

The cities hide many country girls and boys who secretly sigh for a cup of good coffee like "mother" made. "Mother" probably used the old original "Arbuckles'" the first roasted packaged coffee.

See that you get the sealed package, one pound full weight, bearing the name ARBUCKLES' ARIOSA COFFEE and the signature of Arbuckle Brothers, which entitles you to presents.

That is the genuine article, no matter where you buy it or what price you pay for it.

Same old Coffee, same old firm.

Crime in Paris.

The general feeling of alarm created by the increase of crime in France was echoed in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday by an interpellation of the government upon the insecurity of life and property in Paris and in the country.

Along the Belgian frontier a regular gang of bandits has been robbing and murdering for two years, and their depredations continue, in spite of the fact that the police early in February succeeded in arresting the ringleaders. During the two years this gang committed thousands of robberies and murders. The streets of Paris, especially in the Montmarte district, are terrorized by "Apaches," as they are termed, and are no longer safe for pedestrians. The newspapers for weeks past have been filled daily with stories of robberies and assassinations, the victims being struck down with knives.

M. Cochin, in the Chamber yesterday, declared that in many sections of the country the gendarmerie were utterly unable to cope with the brigands, and the inhabitants were arming for self-protection. He cited the case of a village constable who was besieged in his home.

M. Berry, in describing the deplorable condition of Paris, gave a list of 88 murders committed in the streets of the capital since January 1.

Premier Clemenceau, in reply, said the government recognized the growing state of insecurity, and a flying brigade of picked policeman had been organized in Paris similar to the regional brigades which were being formed in the country to cope with the marauders.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer. For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 1, 1907.

SENATOR J. W. BAILEY is on his way from Austin, Texas, to Washington to resume his seat in Congress and to be sworn in for his second term on Monday next. The Senator's arraignment of his political enemies before the lower house of the Texas Legislature last night was the bitterest ever heard in the legislature. Among other things he said:

I had intended at the end of this senatorial term to retire, for at the end of this senatorial term I will have served the people of Texas twenty-two years. But now this war has made me change my purpose. I will need to make no canvass at the end of this term. These men who have tought me have made this necessary. They have won my campaign for me. Next election we will line up, from the government down, not including the governor, but beginning with the lieutenant governor and on down we will line these men up and will teach them a lesson; they need it and we will attend to their cases. If I live, not one of these men shall ever hold office in Texas again, as I shall devote my time to seeing that they don't get in.

Such language as the above will be deplored by every conservative friend of the Senator. Such are not generally the words of a wise man—certainly not of one who intends to remain in political life. We live in an age when bombastic talk ceases to terrify any one, and the proverb, "Persons sworn for always live longest," is adopted by many. The vote by which the Senator was exonerated (70 to 41) was by no means an avalanche in his favor, and the fact that he is determined to solidify more closely those who believe him to be guilty as charged shows his want of sagacity.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, having enjoyed a joke at the expense of Senator Foraker, announced yesterday the nomination of Amor Smith, a white man, for reappointment as surveyor of customs at Cincinnati. This is the office for which, it was said, the President was considering Ralph W. Tyler, a Columbus negro. One of Mr. Foraker's chief sources of strength in Ohio has been his championship of the negroes, but when he got wind of the Tyler appointment he showed his displeasure plainly. At one time he so far forgot his diplomacy as to suggest that the reporters see "the Senator-at-large-Booker T. Washington." The joke is on Senator Foraker. In order that he may not feel at liberty to unlimber his batteries again, it is said that "the President still has under consideration the question of giving some well-known Ohio negro an office in Ohio."

JOHN BOODEG, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., was taken into custody at the White House last night, when he called and asked to see members of the President's family. Boodeg's talk was incoherent. Among other things he said: "I am an angel at times, and must be back in heaven by 12 o'clock tomorrow. I leave on the 10:13 Southern train tomorrow." The sad annals of the past few months go to show that there is more than one trunk line to the celestial world, and that Boodeg could have selected other lines instead of the Southern in order to reach his destination.

PROF. JOHN A. BRASHEAR, the Allegheny astronomer, announced Wednesday night that all signs point to another spot on the sun today, and that atmospherical disturbances may result. Professor Matteucci, of the Mount Vesuvius observatory, says that the earth is in danger of being hurt by the tail of a recently discovered comet.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, March 1.

The ship subsidy bill was defeated in the House this evening by a vote of 154 to 161.

William J. Oliver, the chief promoter of the Panama Construction Company, whose bid for the canal work was rejected by the President, called at the canal commission office today and accepted from Counsel Rodgers the return of the $200,000 certified check which Oliver deposited when he filed his first bid. Oliver announced that he would write the commission a letter in response to his formal notice that the bid had been rejected. It is expected that this letter will contain caustic comment on the treatment Oliver has received. The contractor says that he and his associates were led into heavy expenditures in organizing their company and perfecting their bid by the President's direction, and that they were not treated fairly, even conceding the right of the President to reject any and all bids.

The race question has been put up to the Interstate Commerce Commission. A complaint was filed in its offices today by Georgia Edwards, a colored woman of Chattanooga, Tennessee, against the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway. She objects to associating with "drunken, cursing specimens of her race" in the Jim Crow car after paying a first class fare. She claims this to be "undue discrimination against the colored race."

Senator Blackburn this afternoon retired from the committee on military affairs and Senator Frazier was selected to fill the vacancy. The committee will continue its investigation into the Brownsville case during the recess. Senator Blackburn's term will expire March fourth.

President Roosevelt this morning promised to give the employes of the navy yard, arsenals and gun factories through the country a Saturday half-holiday during June, July and August.

Two Americans were killed in the execution of General Paredes and his followers by government troops in Venezuela, according to a State Department dispatch today from Caracas.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Practically all of the day in the Senate yesterday was consumed in discussion of the amendment of the denatured alcohol law so as to permit farmers to manufacture this produce. No action was taken.

Conference reports were agreed to on the army bill. Conferees practically reached an agreement on the agricultural bill, in which the Beveridge amendment, providing for putting the date of canning on all canned meat products, was stricken from the bill.

Senator Clay pointed out that the present Congress has appropriated $922,963,667, nearly double the national budget of 1898.

Senator Sutherland, of Utah, offered a proposed amendment to the general deficiency bill appropriating $15,000 to reimburse Reed Smoot, his Mormon colleague, for the expenses the latter incurred while defending his right to his seat in the Senate.

The Senate passed the bill authorizing the Baltimore & Washington Transit Company to enter the district from Maryland, with the amendment added providing for a single fare of four cents and eight tickets for twenty-five cents, to be good over all lines of the Capital Traction Company. It was freely predicted during the debate in the House that with these rates of fare the company would not avail itself of the authorization to extend its lines.

In the House general debate was closed on the ship-subsidy bill, and several changes were made in the measure through amendments. Mr. Littauer was unsuccessful in his attempt to make it possible for the Spreckels ships, plying between San Francisco and Australia, to participate in the proposed subsidy. A night session was held for the consideration of private bills, but the absence of a quorum was suggested and much time was spent in securing one. Then a number of bills on the private calendar were disposed of, and the House adjourned at 11:55.

Train Wrecked.

Train No. 49, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, running 40 miles an hour, was wrecked last night at Indian Creek, six miles east of Connellsville, Pa.

The train was westbound and 18 minutes late. It was consisted of a combination smoking and baggage car, two day coaches and the private car of Superintendent Finney. After leaving the rails the train ran 200 feet along the ties and was thrown into the ditch at the foot of the mountains, where the wreckage was completely burned.

The engineer was killed, the fireman fatally injured and the baggagemaster, express messenger, conductor and six passengers were seriously injured. About 30 passengers were more or less cut and bruised.

The Governor's Appointments.

Governor Swanson yesterday announced the following appointments:

Board of Directors of State Hospitals—Central, at Petersburg, Julius Straus, of Richmond, reappointed; Eastern, at Williamsburg, H. H. Holt, of Hampton; Western, at Staunton, Mayor W. H. Landes, of Staunton; Southwestern, at Marion, C. C. Taliaferro, reappointed.

State Board of Agriculture and Immigration—A. O. Mauck, of Norfolk; T. G. Arvin, of Double Bridge; D. D. Adams, of Red Oak; William H. Eggborn, of Culpeper, and John W. Churchman, of Brookwood.

The Governor also appointed three extra delegates to the American Roadmakers' Association, which meets in Pittsburg, Pa., March 12, 13 and 14, as follows: Dr. William L. Thornton, of the University of Virginia; Col. R. A Marr, of Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and Major Thomas A. Jones, of the Virginia Military Institute.

The Thaw Trial.

Harry K. Thaw enlivened an extremely dull session of his trial in New York yesterday by giving out to newspaper men a brief statement, in which he accused District Attorney Jerome of having made unprofessional remarks in court, asserted that his wife's testimony was absolute truth, and in conclusion declared that Mrs. Thaw's "natural, real goodness" was above the comprehension of the prosecuting officer.

Judge Fitzgerald, impatient at Jerome's line of questioning and sustaining an objection by the defense, told him sharply he was to "understand nothing except as I rule."

Dr. Evans occupied the stand all day, making indefinite the time when the defense will rest. Dr. Evans stuck to his expressed belief that Thaw was insane at a certain time without necessarily remaining in that condition.

House Destroyed by Dynamite.

Several pounds of dynamite exploded in the home of Charles Tittle, in Beaver Creek township, ten miles northeast of McLeansboro, Ill., yesterday, killing Charles Tittle, his wife and father, Rev. John B. Tittle. Charles Tittle's two children, one an infant and the other two years old, were fatally hurt.

Just what caused the explosion may never be known, but a large hole under where the sitting room stove stood indicates that the dynamite was placed there. The Tittles had been using dynamite to blast stumps on their farm. The house was completly demolished, and parts of it were blown several hundred feet away. It is supposed that the family were eating dinner, as pieces of food were found in the mouths of the dead bodies. Rev. John B. Tittle was a prominent missionary Baptist minister.

Widow Choked to Death.

Upper Sandusky, O., March 1—With marks of the clutching fingers which choked out her life still on her throat Mrs. John Hausch, a rich widow, who lived alone, was found dead in her home. In an adjoining room was a strong box, broken open and rifled. It is believed she was killed Monday night. Mrs. Hausch leaves a $80,000 estate.

THE STROTHERS TRIAL.

When the Gazette report of the trial of the Strothers brothers in Culpeper closed yesterday, James Strother had told of how he shot Bywaters. Continuing he said: I then ceased shooting and went to the phone and sent for the sheriff and later talked to Judge Grimsley, whom I informed of the death of Bywaters.

Asked if his brother Phil got out of the window at all during the shooting, the prisoner replied that he did not, but remained in the room.

Strother, in reply to a question from his attorney as to whether he really meant to kill Bywaters when he attempted to leave the house, said that he did. "Just as soon as he tried to desert Viola," added the witness, "I had no thought but to kill him. I was like a wild beast, and no power on earth could have prevented me from taking his life."

At the request of counsel the prisoner then gave further facts concerning his family. He told of the purchase of the old plantation because it had been in the family for so many generations, and he desired that the Strothers should continue to own it. He then touched upon his great love for Viola Bywaters.

"I have always been devoted to her," said he, "for she was the youngest child and the favorite of my mother, who on her deathbed called me to her and said, 'Jim, take care of her. You are the only one she can look to.'"

At the afternoon session Philp Strother, the other brother charged with the murder of Bywaters, was called to the stand. Mr. Moore, counsel for the defense, conducted the examination.

Witness explained that he was 25 years old, and had been living at Rotherwood all of his life, and since his father's death had conducted all the farm work.

When interrogated concerning his first supicions that Bwaters was having improper relations with his sister, the witness said that he began to have fears in this direction after the night he had seen Bywaters crossing the hall in his night clothes.

"What did you do then?"

"I wrote to my brother Jim, for he was older than myself, and I looked to him for advice."

The prisoner then referred to his trip to Washington with Mrs. Gaines, and the subsequent telegram sent asking his brother Jim to come to Culpeper, and said that his brother immediately came to Culpeper at his solicitation.

"After sending the telegram," he continued, "I returned to Culpeper myself from Washington, met my brothers Jim and French at the office of Dr. John Strother, where I was told that Viola, who arrived home ahead of me, had admitted all to my brothers at Rotherwood and that the marriage had been agreed upon."

Further questioned, the prisoner said that he was the first to meet Bywaters after the marriage had been agreed upon and that the latter stated he was perfectly willing to marry the girl. He said that Bywaters accompanied him to the clerk's office to get the license, when they met his brother, James Strother and requested that the marriage be postponed.

"The marriage was insisted upon, and I took Bywaters out to Rotherwood in my buggy that afternoon and witnessed the marriage that night."

"Did you expect any trouble resulting from this marriage?" asked the counsel.

"None whatever. We felt perfectly satisfied after the marriage."

"Did you take any part in the conversation down stairs when Bywaters and Mr. Gaines had words down stairs?"

"No. I was not present."

Witness then said that nothing further happened until Jim Strother went up stairs and asked Bywaters what he was going to do.

"We thought," he said, "Bywaters was going to escape, and we were watching him."

"What happened after your brother made this remark to Bywaters?"

All of us remained in the room for awhile, when Bywaters, who was sitting by the bed of my sister, rushed down stairs, but was stopped by my brother-in-law and brought back into the room. Immediately Bywaters darted out of the window, which was near the bed upon which my sister lay."

"What did you do then?"

"Both Jim and myself advanced to he window and began shooting. I had two pistols on my person, one which had been in my possession, and I fired several shots, emptying my revolver, I believe."

Answering a question propounded by Mr. Lee, the witness stated that he did not get out of the window, which was open all the time, nor did he shoot after Bywaters was down. He stated that he did not see him fall, but when he discovered that he had fallen he ceased firing.

Mr. Moore then questioned the witness concerning the finding of a cuff button on the roof belonging to him, which would indicate that he had gotten out of the window in his pursuit of Bywaters. Witness admitted that it belonged to him, but was knocked out of his sleeve by his arm striking against the blind of the window.

The attorneys for the defense then turned the witness over to the counsel for the prosecution, and for a half hour he was subjected to a severe examination at the hands of acting Prosecuting Attorney Keith. Mr. Keith directed particular attention to the loss of the button, and by a volley of rapid-fire questions got the witness tangled regarding the date of the finding of the button on the porch of the Strother home. In the examination of the previous witnesses the commonwealth had attempted to prove that Phil Strother was out on the porch and shot Bywaters while he was down, but so far no evidence has been produced to that effect.

Answering a question as to when he discovered the button on the porch, young Strother replied that it was a few days ago, but afterwards admitted that he was mistaken, but that he went out to his home yesterday morning and hunted for it.

"Why did you say the button was found a few days ago?"

"I happened to remember that I missed it a few days ago."

"Well, is it not so that you looked for it several days ago and not today?"

"No, sir, I visited Rotherwood today and looked for it."

"Why today?"

"Because I wanted it."

By the younger brother the prosecuting attorney tried to bring out the fact that the window in Viola Bywaters' room was not open at the time of the shooting, but the witness said that it had been raised after the ceremony.

When interrogated relative to the display of weapons by him at the time Bywaters returned to the room after making an unsuccessful effort to escape by the back stairway, the prisoner became a little confused and could not remember at first whether he displayed a pistol or not, but afterwards declared he did not.

"Then nothing transpired after Bywaters came back to cause you to pull your pistol and point it at him?"

"Nothing whatever."

Asked when his suspicions were first aroused over the probability of Bywaters attempting to escape, witness said that they first suspected their brother-in-law when he was called to the 'phone.

"We thought strongly that Bywaters might a tempt to leave the house and we were determined to watch him. I afterwards followed my brother Jim upstairs and entered my sister's room, where Bywaters, was and took a seat."

"What had you determined to do," asked Mr Keith, "if he had made any attempt to leave?"

"We had no idea that he was going to make any effort to escape."

"Well, were you not told to come up and watch him?"

"I was requested to see that he did not leave Viola."

In reply to a question from the prosecuting attorney, the witness described Bywaters' exit from his sister's room, and testified that he shot at him down the back stairs.

"I saw him as he ran from the room, but did not see him when I shot."

The return of Bywaters to the room, accompanied by Gaines, who for the second time touched upon by Mr. Keith, who attempted to elicit from the witness any subsequent quarrel between Bywaters and his brothers, but the prisoner said that there was no quarrel, nor could he recall any remark that was made prior to Bywaters jumping out of the window.

"Do you remember how Bywaters got through the window?"

"I cannot say; it was all done so quickly that I hardly had time to see Bywaters before he was out on the roof."

"Did you follow him?"

"I did, and fired at him."

"Explain if you intended to kill Bywaters."

"I can't say whether I did or not."

"But you took the chance of killing him by shooting at him?"

"Yes."

After Philip Strother had concluded his evidence Dr. Johnson Strother, uncle of the prisoners, was called. The most important point brought out from the evidence of the witnesses was the critical condition of Viola Bywaters just two days before her marriage.

He said that when he received a message from the Rotherwood home, fearing for the life of the girl he went to the home of the Strother boys, and upon examining Viola Bywaters found her in the midst of a hemorrhage.

"It is my belief," he said, "that if we hadn't arrived when we did the girl would have died in a half hour from loss of blood."

Witness also stated that he was present at the conference with the Strother boys when it was decided that the marriage should take place.

Raleigh T. Green was the next witness called, and testified relative to the measurements of the room at the Strother home, which were taken under his direction.

Culpeper, Va., March 1.—As soon as court convened today the defense called Dr. Charles Clark, an alienist from the Government Hospital for the Insane, in Washington, thus showing that it was not intended to rely altogether upon the "unwritten law."

Attorney Moore asked a hypothetical question. In it he recited the history of the Strother family, the relations between Viola and Bywaters, the confession and the alleged attempted desertion. "Those being the facts Doctor," said Mr. Moore, "how would you characterize the act of homicide?"

"We object," shouted Mr. Keith, "The question does not recite the facts as testified by the defendants themselves. They admitted that they had been armed all day. That is not in the question. They said they intended killing him. That is not in the question."

Mr. Keith added that there had been no effort to prove that the Strother brothers were suffering from a mental disease. They had formed a deliberate purpose in their minds and hearts. They were cool and collected, and they were armed. One of them said he would do the same thing over again. "Does that show this act was a sudden emotion or impulse?" inquired the attorney. "We say no, and this question must state all of the facts or it can't, under the law, be answered."

Judge Harrison sent the jury out of the court room while the admissibility of the hypothetical question was argued. Counsel for both sides squared off for a long and stubborn encounter.

Mr. Keith then read from several medical authorities who differentiated between sanity, insanity, impulsive, momentary and emotional insanity.

Mr. R. Walton Moore addressed the court for more than half an hour insisting that sanity was for the jury to determine. Mr. Moore cited many of the highest authorities in the country to sustain the contention. "If your Honor ruled with counsel for the commonwealth you say to the defense you can't ask this question unless you prove that these defendants had been suffering from a mental disease for some time prior to December 15.

"If your honor refuses to admit this question you put your self in the position of knowing more about insanity than this expert and this jury," said Mr. Moore in conclusion.

Counsel for the State quoted Dr. Hamilton to sustain their contention. Attorneys for the defense read from a book written by Dr. Hamilton many years later in which he sided with the propounding of the hypothetical query. Mr. Keith said "Dr. Hamilton wrote that when he was an old man and didn't have as much sense as when he wrote what I have just quoted."

Mr. Moore finished for the State. He said no expert should be allowed to answer the questions unless it contained all the facts.

Judge Harrison finally ruled that the questions were admissible. "Now about the 'unwritten law,'" added Judge Harrison, "to which some reference has been made in this case I want to say that no such thing is recognized in this State.

"There is no such law that gives a man the right to take upon himself the righting of a wrong and expect the law of the statute prohibiting such a thing to protect him."

Culpeper, March 1.—A telegram has been received announcing that the mother of Juror C. O Keller, of Woodstock, was in a dying condition.

Today's Telegraphic News

The Thaw Trial.

New York, March 1.—A belief that Harry K. Thaw is really insane at the present time, has become almost unanimous among the officials who have followed the course of the murder trial. And the court officials are not the only ones who believe Thaw insane. While no one in an official capacity can be quoted, there is the best of reason for believing that the entire staff of the District Attorney is of the opinion that Thaw is mentally unsound. While this opinion may not have yet become a conviction in the mind of Jerome, it is undeniable that the District Attorney has shifted his efforts from an attempt to convict Thaw of murder to a plan to send him to Matteawan.

Instead of an attempt to feign insanity Thaw's every act was calculated to combat any such impression. In fact, it has been these very actions, exaggerated as they were, that have tended to strengthen the belief in his weak-mindedness.

Thaw's physical appearance, his nervousness and his strange stare, have all contributed to the belief expressed in the parlance of the court room hangers-on, that he "has a screw loose."

When the court convened this morning Dr. Evans was called to the stand and Jerome resumed the cross-examination of the Longfellow letters written by Thaw, which were under consideration all day yesterday.

Jerome brought the fact that Dr. Evans believed Thaw insane when he wrote the Longfellow letters in 1903, at the time of his marriage April 4, 1905, and the night he killed Stanford White, June 25, 1906.

Thaw has issued a statement in which he says that the testimony of his wife was absolute truth. "Our evidence was of conversations. The cross examination has proven the exact facts under oath. However, some of Jerome's questions and some of his unprofessional remarks in court, it appeared clearly that the natural and real goodness of the witness (his wife) is above his apprehension."

Furniture Firms to be Indicted.

Chicago, March 1.—Between fifteen and twenty-five firms and as many individuals engaged in school and church furniture and desk manufacture are to be indicted by the federal grand jury, according to a report today, after last night's adjournment to March 12. The indictments, it is said, will specify violations of the Sherman anti-trust act. The law provides $5,000 fine or a year in prison. Manufacturers' Agent Frederick Holbrook, said to be the president of the manufacturers, is already under arrest charged with conspiring to form a combination in restraint of trade.

A Terrible Mistake.

Baltimore, March 1.—Horace E. Bradley, aged 16, son of Detective Peter Bradley, of the headquarters force, early this morning mistook his grandfather, John Welch, 74 years old, who was visiting the detective, at his residence, for a burglar and shot the old man three times, one bullet entering the left temple, another the right cheek and the third the forehead. Mr. Welsh was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, where it is stated his condition is extremely critical.

Anti-Masonic Riots.

Rheims, France, March 1.—Despite precaution of the authorites, a resumption of the anti-Masonic riots which occurred here yesterday and in which many persons were injured and 150 arrests were made, is expected. The Free Masons who were taken unprepared, in yesterday's attack have banded their forces and are threatening to wreak vengeance on the Catholics responsible for yesterday's trouble.

The Gillette Case.

Albany, N. Y., March 1.—No notice of appeal has yet been filed in the Gillette case here. Until the order of the Herkimer Court is certified to the clerk of the court of appeals here, the latter will have no cognizance of the case. It is customary to allow time for the presentation of the testimony and all papers in the return to be made to the court of appeals and in the Gillette case they cover several thousand pages.

Driven to Suicide by Fire.

Cleveland, O., March 1.—Determined not to survive the destruction of the business it took him forty years to build up, John Schaber, manufacturer of picture moldings, is dying from bullet wounds self-inflicted while his factory burned last night. The fire loss is about $125,000. Two hundred workmen in the building were rescued with difficulty.

Sailors Convalescing.

New York, March 1.—A favorable report is sent out today from the naval hospital regarding the thirty-three sailors, of the battleship Connecticut, ill with typhoid fever, who were saved in the race with death from Porto Rico. All the cases are reported as doing nicely and there is little danger now of any of the sick men succumbing.

Why pay 20c and 25 cents a can for Salmon when you can buy Argo for 15 cents? Nothing better.

Death of Oldest Jesuit.

Baltimore, March 1.—Rev. Joseph H. Ardia, the oldest Jesuit in the world, died here at midnight at Loyola College. Up to a little more than two weeks ago the venerable priest was able to attend to his regular duties and celebrated mass daily. Father Ardia was 91 years old and born in Naples. He came to this country about 60 years ago.

Senator Bailey Denounced.

Austin, Tex., March 1.—The aftermath of the Bailey investigation came in the House of Representatives yesterday when Bailey's assertions were denounced as lies, his language as indecent and abusive and his manner as insulting. Representative Johnson denounced Bailey as "a wilful, malicious and premeditated liar."

Earthquake in Costa Rica.

Kingston, Jamaica, March 1.—Costa Rica has just been shaken by an earthquake shock, according to cable advices received here today. No great damage is reported, but the people are terrorized in fear of a recurrence of the shock.

New York Stock Market.

New York, March 1.—Brokers called the stock market disappointing because the demonstration of strength yesterday failed to bring in any outside buyers today. This feeling caused many of yesterday's speculative buyers to change their position and sell their long stock, while bears became more aggressive and put out new lines of shorts. As a result prices in the first hour, after slight fractional gains in the first few minutes declined 1 to 2 points.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, March 1.

SENATE.

Senator Clark (Ark.) introduced a resolution in the Senate today providing for an investigation of the Hot Springs reservation by a special committee of three Senators, particularly as to water privileges and registration of physicians. It went to the committee on contingent expenses.

Mr. Morgan favorably reported from the committee on foreign relations his resolution calling upon the President for information whether the United States had confirmed a rubber concession in the Kongo granted to Americans by King Leopold. In a communication accompanying it the Alabama Senator repeats the charges of atrocities practiced against Congo natives. He holds that inasmuch as many negroes in America desire to return to their fatherland and in view of the fact that the Kongo natives have never given their consent in any form to say nothing of King Leopold, the U. S. should exercise its rights under treaty and prevent any ruler of the Kongo from preventing their free access to that country and from denying to him the protection of his natural rights as a human being while residing there.

An attempt made in the Senate today by Mr. Bulkely to pass a bill giving a pension of $50 a month to Edith A. Hawley, widow of the late Senator Hawley of that State, met with aggressive opposition. Mr. McCumber, chairman of the pension committee, announced that the bill had been adversely reported because Mrs. Hawley, who is now in Europe, owned the Hartfort Conrant, was worth $50,000 and had a yearly income of $2,400; that she was a comparatively young woman, had married General Hawley in 1885 and was neither sick nor needy.

The Senate passed the bill giving a pension of $50 a month to Mrs. Hawley. A score of senators on both sides rushed to the defense of the bill which was passed after a two hours debate.

HOUSE.

The House immediately after convening suspended the rules and took up in committee of the whole the general deficiency bill, carrying $9,847,396.04. One of the important provisions is the reduction of the mileage to Members and Senators from 20 cents to 8 cents.

A national incorporation act providing that all corporations engaged in interstate commerce shall be incorporated by the national government and operated under its control was introduced by Mr. Hearst.

At one o'clock Speaker Cannon exercised the discretion placed in him suspending further consideration of the general deficiency appropriation bill in order to consider in committee of the whole the ship subsidy bill, to be voted upon finally in the House at 3 o'clock.

In committee of the whole the House voted by 134 to 100 to strike from the ship subsidy bill the proposed subsidized line from San Francisco, via Hawaii, to Japan, China and the Philippines.

In committee of the whole, the House voted by 130 to 105 to strike from the Littauer ship subsidy the proposed subsidized line from Puget Sound to the Orient. Friends of the line said they would demand the nays and ayes on the amendment when the bill comes up in the House.

The bill was defeated ayes 154, nays 161.

Anti-Suicide Bureau.

Following the success of anti-suicide bureaus in London and other European cities, the Salvation Army today opened a similar bureau at its headquarters, in New York, and any person who may have thoughts of self-destruction is requested to call upon or at once communicate with Col. Thomas Holland or Mrs. Bovill.

This bureau will be kept open day and night and absolute secrecy will be maintained concerning those who call. No matter how great the burden of woe may be, Colonel Holland promises that a way will be found to give hope and a new grip of life, with, in some cases, assistance of a more practical kind.

Bureaus will be established in all the larger cities of the United States, and it is believed the number of suicides will be greatly reduced. Gen. William Booth, the veteran leader of the Salvation Army, will arrive in New York from London next Monday on his way to Canada, and will do what he can to assist the movement in America.

In England the first bureau was opened in London about six weeks ago, and in the first 11 days 300 applicants appeared personally and a large number received aid through correspondence. Since then bureaus have been established in all the leading cites of Europe, and reports show that many lives probably have been saved. A bureau was opened in Philadelphia a week ago, and it is reported that four persons were prevented from suiciding there in as many days.

The Harriman Methods.

In New York yesterday the members of the Interstate Commerce Commission learned a great deal about the profits and methods of E. H. Harriman and associates.

That the profits of Mr. Harriman and his three assistants—Mortimer H. Schiff, George J. Gould and James Stillman, representing a syndicate—were approximately $24 000,000 was the amazing deduction from the statements made by Charles W. Hillard, comptroller of the Alton Railroad.

The sum was made first through the sale of Alton stock to the Southern Railway Company and the subsequent buying and selling of Alton stock and bonds. The transactions were all incidental to the inflation of the road's capital from $39,000,000 to $122,000,000 and the flotation of one $40,000,000 bond issue and another for $22,000,100. Who the members of the syndicate were besides Mr. Harriman and the three men named—who shared in this golden harvest—was not revealed.

The Cabinet Changes.

Today's Cabinet meeting will be the last of the President's present Cabinet, for on Monday Secretary Shaw and Secretary Hitchcock will retire and Postmaster General Cortelyou will take the oath as Secretary of the Treasury, succeeding Mr. Shaw, and James R. Garfield becomes Secretary of the Interior to succeed Mr. Hitchcock. Mr. V. L. Meyer will become Postmaster General, succeeding Mr. Cortelyou. The changes in the Cabinet will be made with little or no ceremony.

President Roosevelt gave a dinner at the White House last night in honor of the retiring members of his Cabinet. Ambassador Bryce made his first official appearance in Washington at the dinner.

Piles get quick relief from Dr. Shoop's Magic Ointment. Remember it's made alone for piles—and it works with certainty and satisfaction. Itching, painful, protruding, or blind piles disappear like magic by its use. Try it and see! For sale by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

To accomodate the great crowds who wish to share in the thousands and thousands of marvelous bargains, we have decided to keep our store open every night during the remaining period of the Great Quits Sale.

New Chancel Window.

The new chancel window which was generously given by Mrs. S. F. Houston, of Philadelphia, to the chapel of the Theological Seminary, near this city, was placed in position yesterday and today, the work being completed this evening. The window was executed by Mayer & Co. at their celebrated works in Munich, Germany, and is a most beautiful specimen of their art. The subject is Christ's last charge to His apostles, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature," spoken just before His ascension. The figures of Christ and the apostles are well drawn and the expression of each face remarkably fine, while the drapery and the whole setting of the group is exquisitely done. There is no window to equal it in this vicinity, and we doubt if there is one that surpasses it in any church in the city of Washington. The Seminary is truly fortunate in receiving such a valuable and handsome gift, and the faculty at its meeting last night passed an appreciative vote of thanks to Mrs. Houston in acknowledgment of it. Bishop Potter has promised the lancet windows on the north and south sides of the chancel, respectively, and will have them filled with English stained glass. When these are put in place the chancel of the Seminary chapel will be one of the most dignified and beautiful of those found in the Episcopal churches of Virginia.

The Laying Power of Hens.

Since the controversy between two Alexandria chicken fanciers set in several other citizens have come to the front with their observations or the laying power of certain breeds of chickens they possess. A well-known gentleman living on King street told a representative of the Gazette today that he has some hens of the brown Leghorn species which lay every third day, and that the eggs are deposited in links, like sausage, ten to the link. It is said that another citizen has purchased a patent nest (an old contrivance, by the way,) which will cause one hen to lay as many eggs at one time as ever Wyman took from his bag. After the hen has laid, a trap under the nest causes the egg to disappear, and the fowl upon looking at the nest previous to cackling and failing to see fruit of her patient sitting, re-enters the nest again and again and keeps on laying until finally driven from the nest by the owner for fear of overstocking the market. A great advantage is manifest in this contrivance as ordinary barnyard fowls can be used to the same advantage as the more expensive breeds.

Fight on King Street.

Early last night a horse fell near the corner of King and Washington streets and a crowd soon gathered. About the time the animal was being placed upon its feet a fight occurred in front of a neighboring barber's shop and the crowd stampeded to the scene of the affray. It appears that a drunken man who had up to a few days ago been employed in the shop went there and precipitated a difficulty with a young man, one of the barbers, and that the latter was endeavoring to get away from his adversary when the fight occured. The man who caused the trouble soon vanished and, it is said, went to Washington. Officer Beach later appeared and cited the young man who had been assailed to appear before the Police Court this morning in order that the trouble could be investigated. The man was dismissed by Justice Caton and orders were issued to apprehend the individual who caused the disorder.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Walter Clark, colored, arrested by Julian Knight charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was fined $5.

Annie Freeman, colored, arrested by Officer Arrington charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was dismissed.

Alice Gallaban, arrested by Officer Lyles, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was fined $2 50.

A white man, arrested by Officer Beach charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, was dismissed.

Wedding.

Mr. McDonald Douglas and Miss Hazel Kirk Brown, both of Washington, D. C., were married in the chapel of the Theological Seminary, near this city, last Friday, February 22nd, at 3 o'clock p. m. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. A. Wallis, of the Seminary. Miss Brown lived for some time at "Mendokin," which her father rented from Mr. Cazenove G. Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will make their home in Washington.

Cries of Murder.

Cries of murder were heard early last night on Union street, between Wilkes and Gibbon. Mr. Julian Knight repaired to the scene and found that there had been trouble between Walter Clark and Annie Freeman, both colored, during which the woman had been knocked down and into a pond of water by the man. Clark was arrested by Mr. Knight and this morning he was fined $5 by Justice Caton.

Two Steamers on Potomac.

Because of heavy freight on the Potomac river, the Maryland, Delaware and Virginia Railway Company will put two steamers on that line. The Anne Arundel will be withdrawn from the Patuxent river line, joining the Northumberland on the Potomac. The Calvert will take the Anne Arundel's place on the Patuxent, and the Lancaster will replace the Calvert on the Rapahannock.

Quick Trip.

The four-masted schooner Clara C. Donnell, from the Kennebec with ice for the Mutual Ice Company, has arrived. The Donnell made a record trip of five days and ten hours. The work of dredging the dock on the north side of the pier of the Mutual Ice Company is now in progress and will be completed by Monday when the schooner will be berthed.

Personal.

Mr. Carroll Pierce has been appointed agent in this city of the Mutual Life Insurance Company, of New York, in place of the late Mr. W. Frank Lambert.

Mr. E. H. Kemper, at his home on north Washington street, last night entertained the officers of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons, in honor of his friend, Mr. Geo. H. Evans, who was recently made a Master Mason. A number of other friends of Mr. Kemper were present.

Mr. Anthony E. Smoot left last night for Panama to accept a position with the Isthmian Canal Commission.

The condition of Mr. Wm. McA. Green, who is ill at the Hospital, is not so favorable today.

Miss Edith Stansbury continues seriously ill at her home on north Columbus street.

Mr. George L. Appich, now of Lynchburg, is in the city on a short visit.

Advent of March.

The uncertain month of March made its advent at twelve o'clock last night, and vagaries in the weather may be looked for until after All-Fools' Day. There is generally rain, snow, hail, sleet and thunder and lightning at times in March, and while old Boreas at intervals makes himself heard and felt, Æolus occasionally turns his cave loose with terrible effect. March this year has entered serenely but threatening, and, according to the weather lore of many, it will make its exit in a lionine way.

Administrator Appointed.

In the Corporation Court today Mr. Carroll Pierce was appointed administrator of the estate of the late W. Frank Lambert and upon qualifying gave bond in the sum of $30,000. Messrs. Worth Hulfish, U. S. Lambert and M. A. Ahern were appointed appraisers. The deceased left no will. His estate is variously estimated at from $75,000 to $150,000. He carried a large life insurance policy.

Store Robbed.

The store conducted by Mr. F. M. Adams at the corner of Wolfe and Columbus streets was entered last night and robbed of tobacco, cigars, candy, &c. The robbery was reported to the police as soon as it was discovered, and every effort is being made to identify the thieves and to recover the stolen goods.

Will Probated.

The will of the late N. P. T. Burke has been admitted to probate. The deceased left his estate to his widow, whom he named as executrix and directed that no bond be required and that no appraisement be made.

QUADRUPLE MURDER.

As foul a crime as ever stirred Central Illinois was the quadruple murder by Thomas Baldwin, a wealthy business man of Colfax, McLean county, of Cora Eiseman, his fourteen-year-old niece, who was a victim of his criminal attack last fall; her mother, Mrs. Simeon Eiseman, and Charles Kennedy, a young farmer, and his wife.

The tragedy was committed at noon yesterday, near the homes of the victims, three miles north of Arrowsmith. Baldwin, who is six y-eight years of age, was maddened by the publication of a story of his crime.

Baldwin, who apparently had led an exemplary life, was indicted by the last grand jury on the girl's charge, and Mrs. Eiseman and the girl's father and the Kennedys were witnesses before the grand jury. Baldwin came into the Circuit Court last week and gave $2,500 bail. Yesterday morning he evidently determined to be revenged upon everybody connected with his prosecution, for he drove from Colfax to Arrowsmith in a buggy, and went to the homes of his victims.

At the Kennedy home he shot husband and wife dead. He expected to find the Eiseman girl there in all probability, as she had been staying some of the time with the Kennedys, her relatives, but as she was not there he went to the Eiseman home, where he, with a pistol, shot down the fourteen-year-old girl whom he betrayed.

When Baldwin went to the Eiseman home the mother and Cora and the other children saw him coming. They locked the door, fearing trouble. Mrs. Eiseman finally persuaded her children that it would be politic to open the door. She believed that she could pacify Baldwin and invited him to enter. As soon as the door was opened Baldwin told Mrs. Eiseman that if she moved he would kill her on the spot. The mother and daughter started to run.

Calling with curses for them to stop, Baldwin overtook the mother and planted two bullets in her breast and she dropped dead. With pistols in both hands, Baldwin started after Cora Eiseman. The girl cried for mercy, but he shot her dead. She was crawling through a hedge when Baldwin fired the fatal shot. The other daughter, who witnessed the tragedy, was apparently overlooked.

Baldwin made no effort to escape. He was soon in the custody of a deputy sheriff, who took him to the county jail yesterday afternoon. An enormous crowd assembled at the jail when he was brought in, No demonstration was made however, and no statement was made by the prisoner. His wife is dead, but he has two married daughters and a son.

The settlement of the assault case by payment of $500 got to the ears of State's Attorney Bach. He subpoenaed all of relatives to appear before the grand jury. When their evidence was in the jurors returned an indictment against Baldwin.

Bloomington, Ill., March 1.—Thomas Baldwin, the rich Colfax farmer, who killed four persons yesterday, faces death at an avenger's hands. Simeon Eiseman, whose wife and fourteen-year-old daughter were two of Baldwin's victims, is here vowing to kill Baldwin. He has repeatedly tried admission to the jail. Many of Baldwin's neighbors are trying to stir up a mob to lynch the murderer. A bottle of whisky found untouched in Baldwin's pocket has been found to contain strychnine. It is thought he intended committing suicide after the crime. It is said his defense will be insanity.

AUCTION SALES.

By R. F. Knox, Auctioneer.

PURSUANT TO DECREE OF THE CIRCUIT COURT, of Fairfax county, Va., in the suit of Greenfield vs. Kerby, therein pending, the undersigned commissioner of sale will about 12 o'clock (noon), on the 14th day of March, 1907,

THURSDAY,

offer for sale at public auction, in front of the Market House (Royal street entrance), in the city of Alexandria, Va., that track of land located in Mt. Vernon magisterial district, Fairfax county, Va., containing 85 acres (family graveyard reserved), being part of the old Samuel Collard real estate. The land is improved by dwelling house, barn and other buildings, and orchard. The land is of good quality and the location is exceptionally good, being a public road leading to Alexandria city and about 3½ miles south of said city. It is valuable for trucking or as a dairy farm.

Terms of sale:

One-third cash and the residue in two equal payments at six and twelve months from the day of sale, evidenced by the purchaser's interest bearing notes and secured by retention of title until the last payment is made. THOMAS R. KEITH,
Commissioner of sale.

In the Clerk's Office of the Circuit Court of Fairfax county, Va.

I, W. E. Graham, Deputy Clerk of said Court, do certify that the bond required of the commissioner of sale in the above matter has been executed by him with approved surety. Given under my hand this 15th day of Februrary, 1907.

W. E. GRAHAM, Deputy Clerk.

A Very Busy Man.

A school inspector went to investigate the case of a man who, although he could well afford to keep his children at school, had obtained labor certificates for them all and was taking frequent holidays while the poor little fellows worked to keep the home on.

To his wife's plea that the youngsters' wages were useful when "feyther" was out of work the inspector replied:

"A mere quibble, ma'am. Your husband has constant work, but is too lazy to do it. His employer told me so."

"Then it's a wicked story, and I'm not particular who hears me say it!" cried the woman indignantly. "My husban' is the busiest man in England, bar none. Why, he was up at daybreak this mornin' teachin' my youngest lad to swim, an' he's walked ten miles across plowed fields to fly a pigeon an' won a bounce ball contest an' a boxin' match since dinner, an' now, to wind things up," she added as a final proof of her husband's amazing industry, "he's down in the wood yonder trainin' his dog to catch an' kill rabbits without leavin' the marks of his teeth on 'em. If you want more work than that crowded into a day, you must be a regular nigger driver."—London Tit-Bits.

When Buttons Were Big.

Bachaumont writes in his "Secret Memoirs," Nov. 18, 1786: "The mania for buttons is today extremely ridiculous. They are not only of enormous size, some of them as big as six pound crowns, but miniatures and pictures are made upon them, and this ornamentation is extremely costly. Some of them represent the medals of the twelve Caesars, others antique statues and still others the Metamorphoses of Ovid."

Isabey, in his biographical notes, says that when he came to Paris he worked for a living by making copies of Vanloos and Bouchers on the lids of snuffboxes and that for these medallions he was paid from 6 to 8 francs each. "As it was still the fashion," he said, "to wear buttons as big as a five franc piece, upon which Cupids, flowers and landscapes were cut in cameo, I went into that business. I got 12 sous for each."—Paris Figaro.

Why Some Countries Are Uninhabited

A mere glance at our maps impresses a few general facts upon us. We see that the largest areas of the unknown are now in lands that are too dry, as in the Sahara, the desert of Arabia, and the steppes of Mongolia; lands that are too wet and hot, stimulating almost impenetrable forest growths, as in parts of the Amazon and Kongo basins; lands that are too cold and bleak, as portions of the northern areas of America and Asia. Even the characteristics of the inhabitants influence the extent of the unexplored. In proportion to total area there is more unknown surface in Liberia than in any other political subdivision of the world, because the Liberians, content to live along the coast, have scarcely entered their vast forest maze, though they teem with rubber and other resources.—Cyrus C. Adams in Harper's.

What Red Coral Is.

The red coral that is used for necklaces is a horny axis which supports a number of soft bodied, coral-like animals, or polyps, the entire structure bearing a strong resemblance to a small shrub. The fishermen, after they have brought this shrublike colony to the surface, clean the soft animal matter away, preserving the red core, or axis, which is sold as jewelry. Although red coral contains some line, it is largely composed of a substance akin to horn, and, like horn, it takes a fine polish. Horn, wool and other animal substances of this nature almost invariably change their color when brought into intense heat.—St. Nicholas.

Welsh Rabbit Fiasco.

"When I was starting my apartment," remembered the bachelor, "several of my lady friends wired me they would bring a small party of people up for Welsh rabbit. I went out and bought a chafing dish, the handsomest I could find; a dozen plates, silver knives and forks and spoons and napkins and a table to set the rabbit out on, so that the rabbit, which at a restaurant would have cost about $1 all told, cost me about $35. And then they didn't come."—New York Press.

His Opposite.

Jenkins—I am told that the happiest marriages are between people who are exactly opposite in every respect to each other, so I am looking for a young lady of that sort, don't you know. Miss Pert—Then you have come to the right place. Come to the other side of the room, and I'll introduce you to a bright, intelligent, well educated girl.

Deceived.

"I want to get a divorce from my wife."

"On what ground?"

"Well, I don't know the legal term for it, but she didn't tell me before I married her that she was an elocutionist."

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart, or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. If safe even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Croup can positively be stopped in 20 minutes. No vomiting—nothing to sicken or distress your child. A sweet, pleasant, and safe Syrup, called Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure, does the work and does it quickly. Dr. Shoop's Croup Cure for Croup alone, remember. It does not claim to cure a dozen ailments. It's for Croup, that's all. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Endorsed by the County.

"The most popular remedy in Otsego county, and the best friend of my family," writes Wm. M. Dietz, editor and publisher of the Otsego Journal, Gilbertsville, N. Y., "is Dr. King's New Discovery. It has proved to be an infallible cure for coughs and colds, making short work of the worst of them. We always keep a bottle in the house. I believe it to be the most valuable prescription known for Lung and Throat diseases." Guaranteed to never disappoint the taker, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists. Price 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Prodigate Spendthrifts.

The wealth of many of the ancient Romans was reckoned far into the millions. Mark Antony during his somewhat checkered career squandered no less than $735,000,000, and Tiberius left at his death over eighteen millions, which Caligula spent in less than a year. Records show that this spendthrift paid $150,000 for one supper. Horace tells us that Pegellus, a singer, could in five days spend $40,000, and Clodius on a small wager swallowed a pearl worth nearly $40,000. The estate of Crassus was valued at $8,400,000. Lucullus dined at the rate of $8,000 a meal for several weeks. Lentulus was worth not less than sixteen millions, and Apicus squandered nearly five millions of dollars in a few weeks.

Irritating Americanisms.

One of the most irritating of Americanisms is the use of "limb" for "branch." "Limb" for "leg" has always been accepted as an American prudery, but what is the matter with "branch?" Careful Anglophile writers are beginning now to reintroduce this latter word, but "limb" has hitherto been the transatlantic word with all authors. If it is also old English we shall not mind so much, but is it? The joke of the verse is at least 1,300 years old, but how old is the English version?—London Chronicle.

Must Be Good.

Plaisantin offered in payment of a bill a gold piece which had a suspicious ring. "Here, you've given me one of those false coins that the counterfeiters have just been arrested for making," said the merchant. "Impossible," answered Plaisantin. "It is dated 1868. If it were false, surely it would have been found out before this."—Gaulois.

Three Wives.

The Beggar—Please, sir, will you kindly assist a poor man who has three wives to support? The Pedestrian—Why, do you mean to say you are a bigamist? The Beggar—Oh, no, sir. Two of them are the wives of my sons-in-law.

Delays Are Dangerous.

"But this is so sudden! You had better give me a week to think it over!"

"Very well, dear. And, perhaps, it would be as well if I thought it over myself at the same time!"—Sketching Bits.

Breaking In.

Mother—Dear me, the baby has swallowed a piece of worsted. Father—That's nothing to the yarns she'll have to swallow if she lives to grow up.

The grocers are buying Argo Red Salmon because it takes no argument to sell it and the customers come back for more.

It's a pleasure to tell our readers about a Cough Cure like Dr. Shoop's. For years Dr. Shoop has fought against the use of Opium, Chloroform, or other unsafe ingredients commonly found in Cough remedies. Dr. Shoop, it seems, has welcomed the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted, for he has worked along similar lines many years. For nearly 20 years Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure contains have had a warning printed on them against Opium and narcotic poisons. He has thus made it possible for mothers to protect their children by simply insisting on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

The Limit of Life.

The most eminent medical scientists are unanimous in the conclusion that the generally accepted limitation of human life is many years below the attainment possible with the advanced knowledge of which the race is now possessed. The critical period that determines its duration, seems to be between 50 and 60; the proper care of the body during this decade cannot be too strongly urged; carelessness then being fatal to longevity. Nature's best helper after 50 is Electric Bitters, the scientific tonic medicine that revitalizes every organ of the body. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater, & Sons, druggists.
